Synopsis

Anytime is a good time to read a dog story! When Karen and Will have to unexpectedly put their beloved best friend to sleep, they aren't sure they will ever be ready for another dog. But when an unusual event happens, they learn there is another dog out there who is counting on them. Based on true events that happened in the author's life, this short story tells the tale of two very different dogs that loved their way into the heart of one family and how, through both life and death, they each formed a bond that would be cherished forever. Sure to be one of your favorite dog stories in the Kindle store.

Customer Reviews

This book is a good read but if you've lost a dog sometime in your life - be prepared to sob your heart & soul out. It's one of those 'I-can't-talk, leave-me-alone' crying sessions because it's exactly how I lost my boy. Anyone who has lost a dog can relate to this book - but get the boxes of tissues ready! Be warned!

This was a beautiful book. It made me cry it made me sigh. I will never forget this book and will read it again and recommend to all dog lovers or anyone who believes when they look in their "best friends" eyes they see a kind of love and loyalty you find very rarely in the human world. Hug them tight to you and cherish every moment you are blessed to have them in your life.

I had a dog that died that was my companion and buddy. I thought this book was heartwarming...because I can relate to losing a dog because of a illness, my dog was old also, about 12 years old, and she just didn't want to do much except sleep and be walked at times....I miss her, I have another dog and he is precious....

Oh, I hope our dogs have connected souls! It would give me great comfort to know when my dog passes, he'll return to me in another soul to love and care for me all over again. This story was quick, touching and so relatable as a dog lover.

This was a great story about a dog who was loved and the family who loved him enough to carry on that love to another dog in need of that love! Would recommend to all animal rescuers and animal lovers alike.

I love the story. I always believed that dogs meet in heaven and that your family that is already there take care of them. If that is true I feel sorry for my family, we have buried 15 dogs and they were all 15 and 16 yrs. old, and we loved them so much that when they left us I grieved for a long time, then the kids would bring another one because they were traveling for their job, so we would take it over. The funny thing was when they came to visit, the dogs would hide, we loved them all. Now we have my daughter's dog and she does the same thing, hides when her mom comes to see us. Her dad calls her to come out and go home, She runs in the bathroom and closes the door. too cute. Gotta love them. We sure do and this story meant something to me. Like our Shilee sent Sammy to come and watch over us, But she is 15 already, still has a strong bark so she is doing her job. all dog lovers have to read this. Jen

Made me cry. I took in a rescue dog, but after a couple of weeks I realized that he was too much. So I was going to take him back, but I couldn't. I knew he would be sitting in his kennel wondering when "Mom" was going to come and get him, or "what did I do that was wrong" just like Cujo. After reading this book, I came to terms with him and we have worked on his behavior. HE is the dog I want to watch my house, watch my 2 little dogs. He's a big lovey, funny, a great dog!!

Wonderful book.
