Rorstrand Porcelain: Art Nouveau Masterpieces

Synopsis

The artists of the influential Rörstrand porcelain factory in Sweden created some of the most beautiful decorative objects of the Art Nouveau style. In his fascinating and authoritative text, Bengt Nyström focuses on the Rörstrand factory's designers and their revolutionary forms during the period 1865 to 1915, when the firm successfully competed artistically with Tiffany and Gallé in the great international expositions that showcased and helped to propagate the Art Nouveau style. Inspired by late 19th-century crafts movements fathered by William Morris, the artists of the Rörstrand factory took nationalistic pride in incorporating their indigenous flora and fauna into their exquisite designs, transforming wintry berry springs and northern sea creatures into elegant three-dimensional works of art that appealed to a sophisticated European clientele. Illustrated with objects from Robert Schreiber's outstanding collection, supplemented with craftsmen's drawings and archival documents, Nyström's thoroughly researched text includes engaging glimpses of the culture surrounding Rörstrand (a former castle), especially the close-knit community of insightful administrators, talented designers and inventors, and artisans. The book chronicles not only the company's artistic achievements but the day-to-day personalities and decisions behind the emergence of this once-utilitarian factory as the birthplace of some of Sweden's most beautiful decorative objects.

At the turn of the twentieth century, the artists of the Swedish Rörstrand porcelain factory created some of the most beautiful decorative objects of the Art Nouveau period. This sumptuous volume is illustrated with objects from Robert Schreiber's outstanding and rare collection, the results of 25 years of dedication. Bengt Nystrom's authoritative text focuses on the Rorstrand factory, a former castle, between 1896 and 1915. Nystrom perceptively details the social history of the quickly growing labor movement, the expansion and growth of the Rorstrand factory, and the emergence of an especially creative cadre of artisans. Detailed craftsmen's drawings and fascinating archival documents provide engaging glimpses into Rorstrand's close-knit community.

Bengt Nystroem is Vice-Director of the Nordiska Museet in Stockholm and author of numerous articles and books on various aspects of 19th- and 20th-century design and decorative arts. He has organized more than thirty exhibitions, including The 1890s in Sweden (1991). Alastair Duncan is a consultant to Christie's and the author of Abbeville's Fin-de-Si cle Masterpieces from the Silverman Collection. Robert M. Schreiber is a collector and principal of Schreiber Gallery, New York.

If you are a fan of porcelain ware and collectibles, this book is a must. It contains a considerable amount of text spread throughout the entire length of the book, balance with an equal amount of full page photos of breathtaking vases. The colors are well produced, and the details of each vase are captured. When I look at the intricate details on these vases, and I look at the vases being produced in modern times (think Franz, etc., etc.), it really puts the ability of early craftsmen into perspective- as it does anytime you visit a museum and you see a quality piece that has been done entirely by hand.
