Michael Hall grew up in Ann Arbor, Michigan, where autumn was memorable for football, floats, caramel apples, and spectacular colors. He is the creator of several acclaimed picture books for children, including Frankencrayon, Red: A Crayon's Story, My Heart Is Like a Zoo, Perfect Square, and It's an Orange Aardvark! Michael Hall now lives with his family in Minneapolis, Minnesota "another city that shimmers in the fall. The illustrations naturally spark discussion about the artist's techniques, making this book a great accompaniment to any paper collage activity. Highly recommended for those who teach, parent, or babysit kids in the kindergarten age range.

My daughter loved this book, which i first got from the library. Had to buy it fir her. It's a nice story about reinventing self and gives kids a positive outlook in face of adversity. It's subtle and unassuming.

I absolutely love using this story in my preschool. There is a positive lesson and a hands-on art project to reinforce it.

Good Picture book Good service

The elementary students (3, 4 & 5 graders) loved the book; and because of it, our class discussion was more in-depth....meaning, it caused the students to really think and analyze.

This book is beautiful, visually and in content. It illustrates turning "mistakes" into something wonderful and exemplifies creativity. It could be used for a unit on paper art, shapes and color. Fabulous book for the young ages (up to age 8?)

Wonderful book - good gift as kids are not likely to have it already

Gave this book to my five year old niece for as a Christmas gift. I don't know who was more excited to get home with it and try it out, her or her mother. I know they will have fun with this book and it's creative ideas. I even gave her a pack of construction paper to go with it, just to get her started.
