Customer Reviews

This book is simple and yet powerful! This is a great teaching and training tool for competitors of all ages who are serious about competing. I appreciate that the writing is simplistic so that youth can read it and understand what they are reading as well as it can still be enjoyed by adults. Although the step by step ways to success is geared towards sheep showmanship, the wisdom shared is very applicable to any showman with any species. As a family that participates in open livestock shows, this book gave me some great ideas, suggestions and encouragement for my kids. The illustrations were very helpful and the authors humility was refreshing. A great book and strongly recommended!

What a great resource for any showman. As a 4H leader and educator with numerous students who show sheep and other animals, I found this book to be well organized, simply laid out, and very applicable. The step by step process that was followed in the organization of Show Your Way to the Top allowed for easy reading and great understanding of the important components of showing sheep and how to do well. Most interestingly, many of the principles written about in this book are easily transferable to other animals and how to best prepare for showing and how to show. This book is also a good read for showman of any age, whether young and inexperienced 4H or very experienced older 4H/FFA. This will be a great resource for any to take advantage of.

Attention 4-H leaders and FFA advisors -- your job just got a WHOLE LOT easier! This amazing "how to" for the basics of showmanship...and far beyond! Buy this book and put it into practice -- the hard work has been done for you. Loved this quote: "Sheep showmanship is not about getting good and staying there. It is about getting good enough to win, and then getting better."

Tara has done a very thorough job of explaining everything you need to know to take your sheep from wild to winning. She shares with you her experience and success, demonstrating a level of professionalism beyond her years. I was impressed at just how thorough this book is - Tara gives you techniques from the beginning of training all the way to impressing the judges. She not only gives you specific techniques and tips, but warns you of possible problems and tells you how to overcome them. There are even sample questions, extra tips, and a full glossary of show terms. This is an amazing resource for anyone who is going to show sheep or anyone who will be teaching others to show sheep. I have no doubt that if you follow all of Tara's tips as well as put in the hard work required, you'll be a winner in no time.

No matter what level of showmanship you are currently competing at, you can learn a thing or three from this young lady. Being in the show lamb business for 20+ years, I can say she taught me a few new "tricks" I will use when getting lambs trained for the show ring. I have not found a book like this anywhere on the market. Easy clear and concise on techniques and principles on getting even a trouble lamb trained. Miss Jayne knows her subject and she presents it well. Showmen, parents, leaders, extension agents, all can benefit from taking Tara's knowledge and applying it to their project. Take the time, put the effort in and find yourself at the top of the class !

I am nine years old. One morning daddy woke me up and brought me upstairs and showed me two black lambs that had been abandoned by their mother. And I bottle fed them. Now they are outside in a field with an electric fence. I wanted to bring them to the fair, so daddy bought this book for me. I've begun their training and it seems helpful. I've read it two times through and I really liked the part about training them how to walk on the halter. They're walking on the halter a lot better now.

Tara Jayne has a winner here in the "how to" genre to help children, adults, and 4H mentors learn how to show their sheep to bring home top awards every time. Tara took her own hard won experience in the ring and transferred that information into an easy to access method that others can use to recreate her success with much less trial and error. The photographs interspersed throughout this well organized volume will help the reader visualize exactly what you need to do to properly handle your sheep. She starts with Three Basic Steps to get you started and includes Bonus Tips for practice. She even covers how to answer questions from the judge and includes a glossary of terms to help the reader avoid confusion. Top honors and a blue ribbon to Tara Jayne for a real winning read!

I was very impressed with the book "Show Your Way to the Top." It was informative, organized, and well-written. The author is clearly knowledgeable and experienced on the subject of sheep showmanship. Written in a conversational, easy to follow style, this book discusses many of the problems encountered during training and showing sheep and provides ways to correct them. It is divided into two parts; Part One focuses on training the lamb, while Part Two is about training the showman. Various practical, real-life examples are included. Numerous color photographs assist the author's descriptions. Compared with learning by trial-and-error, the knowledge and experience shared in this book is invaluable in saving you both time and frustration. I would whole-heartedly recommend this book to anyone who is interested in showing sheep and wants to do well when they show at a county fair.
